

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A cross shaft joint tiltably coupling two shaft members each other includes: a cross shaft which includes four shaft portions and is arranged between the two shaft members; outer ring cups rotatably provided to the four 5 shaft portions, respectively, the outer ring cups being adapted to be coupled to corresponding shaft members; and an attachment portion to which a balance weight for balancing the outer ring cups can be attached is formed on at least one of the outer ring cups.